Educating Your Client On The Legal and Ethical Pitfalls of Social Media (2258R)

With technological developments and legal efforts to create consistent and workable laws and regulations, every day is a new adventure in the world of social media. Problems often are not anticipated and are evolving daily, if not as fast as the internet may bring them. They include ever increasing U.S. laws and agencies' regulations of social media; hacking and other improper invasions of internet devices, which have destroyed privacy in the workplace; and the growing tendency of employers to allow employees to bring devices to the workplace and take work home, which is creating new legal exposures for employers and employees and their families and friends.

Moderator: Kim Kolback, Law Offices Of Kimberly Kolback, Miami

Speaker: Joseph Z. Fleming, Greenburg Traurig, Miami
